Garry Krinsky's Toying with Science at Historic Elsinore Theatre

Salem, OR – While Garry Krinsky looks like he just walked out of a cartoon, with trademark top hat, suspenders and bow tie, he knows a lot about how the real world works. His family performance, “Toying with Science,” showing at the Historic Elsinore Theatre on Friday, October 26 at 7 p.m., dives into scientific principles of gravity, leverage and simple machines all in a fun and fast-paced theatrical program.

Do you know what a fulcrum is? Krinsky will show you. With boundless energy and humor, Krinsky will bring science to life with his unique combination of circus skills, mime, original music and audience involvement. Balancing five ladders on his chin, Krinsky not only amazes audiences, he teaches them how to find the center of gravity.

Budding scientists won't want to miss this special event. Krinsky's performance is presented in partnership with A.C. Gilbert's Discovery Village and sponsored by Foresters – Capital Branch. For more ticket information, call Tickets West at 1-800-992-8499.
